Welcome to TBNSW Update for Autumn 2010

President's Report

With the conclusion of the Sydney Autumn Racing Carnival, breeders must now begin to consider their options for the 2010 breeding season. It makes sense to begin this process by assessing the racetrack performances of our best Thoroughbreds.

Timeform Australia Group 1 Racing Review

In an effort to provide a thorough analysis of Australian Group 1 Racing, TBNSW is pleased to welcome on board Gary Crispe. Gary is one of the most respected form analysts in Australia and has extensive experience in assessing Thoroughbred racetrack performances. Gary is the CEO of Racing and Sports, which currently calculates Timeform Equivalent Ratings and supplies Timeform in the UK with these ratings and editorial as part of the Timeform Racehorses Annual. Since the inception of the Benchmark Programming and Merit Based Handicapping in NSW in October 2009, Racing and Sports has also been contracted by Racing NSW to assist in the handicapping of racehorses in NSW. In this edition, Gary has provided an introduction to the Timeform Handicapping system that is applied to Australian racing, as well as a review of the Australian Group 1 races that have been conducted in 2010.

Coal Mining in the Hunter Valley

The Hunter Valley Thoroughbred Breeders have continued to work hard in educating politicians, mining officials and the general public about the very real threat that mining in the region poses to Thoroughbred farms, as well as other primary industries, within the Hunter Valley region.

TBNSW has assisted this campaign by donating sponsorship of a race to the Protect Our Industries campaign during our recent Race Night at Canterbury Park. The campaign, which was based out of the TBNSW office during the recent Inglis sales, attracted plenty of interest at the Newmarket complex with more than 1,300 people signing a petition registering their support for a cumulative impact assessment to be conducted into the

2010 Classic Sale Grooms Award

Congratulations to Wayne and Pauline Alchin and all of their hard-working team at Carramar Park on winning the 2010 TBNSW Classic Sale Grooms Award. The judges were all greatly impressed by both the level of professionalism shown by the Carramar Park staff, as well as the presentation of their draft. This success carried through to the sale ring, with 15 of their 17 yearlings offered sold for an aggregate of $647,500. Wayne and Pauline were awarded a $500 prize, which they kindly donated to the Red Cross Haiti Earthquake Appeal. Congratulations again to all at Carramar Park on a highly successful sale.

TBNSW Seminar & Race Night

On February 18 TBNSW conducted a Seminar and race Night at Canterbury Park Racecourse. A group of 40 people attended the seminar in the afternoon which included speakers addressing issues such as Business & Tax Tips for Thoroughbred breeders; the role of the Australian Stud Book; understanding Thoroughbred sales & racing information; Managing Bloodstock investments; and Bloodstock Insurance. I would like to thank our presenters who gave of their time in an effort to help educate those in attendance about just a few of the issues that face Thoroughbred breeders. We have received positive feedback about this event and plan to conduct similar seminars aimed at educating breeders about various issues relating to our industry. If you have a topic that you feel needs to be addressed, please contact Andrew Cook at the TBNSW office.

TBNSW Committee Member Judy Marheine presents Wayne Alchin with the 2010 TBNSW Classic Sale Grooms Award, won by Carramar Park.

Around 90 people also attended the TBNSW Race Night conducted that evening. Again we have received positive feedback about this event, where breeders were able to discuss their thoughts with fellow breeders as well as industry professionals who were in attendance on the night. We look forward to conducting a similar event during the 2010/11 night racing season.

Recognition of NSW-bred Group 1 Winners

By the end of April TBNSW will have distributed 26 trophies to the breeders of Group 1 winners that were bred in NSW and/or sired by NSW-based stallions. We believe that the achievement of breeding a Group 1 winning Thoroughbred should be recognised and we are pleased to see such a high number of NSW-bred Group 1 winners in the past four months alone. It is a positive reflection of the ongoing strength of the NSW Thoroughbred Breeding Industry.

Wagga Wagga Gold Cup Carnival Sponsorship

We are pleased to announce our involvement as a sponsor of the 2010 Wagga Wagga Gold Cup Carnival. TBNSW is keen to become more involved in regional racing carnivals so to show the breeding industry's general support for racing in NSW. The Riverina region has a strong base of Thoroughbred breeders and we look forward to hosting a number of current and future members at our marquee on the Town Plate and Gold Cup race days on 6 and 7 May.

Stallions 2010

In the coming weeks all TBNSW members will receive their complimentary copy of the 2010 edition of Stallions. This publication will again include detailed information about more than 200 stallions standing at stud in the 2010 season. I know that Stallions will be of great benefit to breeders and I hope that this information assists with your mating plans for the upcoming breeding season.

On behalf of the TBNSW Committee, I wish you every success for the remainder of the 2009/2010 season.

Introduction to Timeform in Australia

By Gary Crispe

During the last ten years, Racing and Sports has been Timeform's handicapping partner for the provision of Timeform ratings for Australia, New Zealand and parts of Asia.

Timeform has credited Kingston Town with a rating of 137, which currently places him as the second-highest rated Australian galloper behind Tulloch (138).

The Racing and Sports' database carries form and Timeform ratings for every horse in several jurisdictions throughout the globe. We are therefore able to accurately assess the performance of any horse racing in Australia and then compare it on an equal basis with other thoroughbreds in other jurisdictions. That is the strength of Timeform, a brand that has been synonymous with the accurate global assessment of thoroughbreds for over 60 years.

Timeform ratings are the "Gold Standard" for international ratings assessments and while some have tried to follow, none have been able to match Timeform for data integrity, accuracy, consistency and longevity.

A Timeform rating is a numerical rating expressed in pounds. It is an objective measure of a horse's merit.

For example a three-year-old with a Timeform rating of 120 and a five-year-old with the same rating are considered equal in merit based on performance, however if they met under actual race conditions then the younger horse would be entitled to weight relief according to the weight for age scale for distance and time of year.

The Timeform scale for ratings on the flat runs from around 20 for the poorest animals to 140 or more for the very best performers.

Each year I spend time working with Timeform's team of Handicappers in Halifax, reviewing methodologies and using the expertise from each organisation across multiple jurisdictions.

The process used by Racing and Sports to calculate Timeform ratings is very similar to that which has been the cornerstone of Timeform's Handicapping since 1948.

We both carry our own handicap for every horse racing so before a race is even run, the computers will have a very good assessment of the quality of every race, whether it be a maiden at Armidale or a Group One at Randwick.

Once the race results are entered into the database, generally within 24 hours of the race being run, Racing and Sports Handicappers will begin the analysis. This process involves sifting through the various factors with the starting point being initial computerised assessments for every race taking into account the weights carried, quality of opposition, beaten margin, age, track condition and Timefigure calculations.

Crucial to the process is the poundage allowance used in the calculation, that is how many pounds per length beaten margin is used. This is a complex formula that varies from race to race according to distance and race time. For example a sprint race over 1000m will generally have a poundage allowance of around 4 per length whereas a 3200m race it will be in the order of 1.5 per length.

Racing and Sports Handicappers will examine in pounds, the difference in performance of each runner comparing the level of performance with all other runners against the universal handicap, class averages and expected performance based on each runner's current form cycle.

Introduction to Timeform in Australia CONTINUED...

As part of an ongoing process, the Handicappers will continually review past assessments in the light of latest information, updated formlines etc that may show for example a race to be stronger or weaker than first analysed.

One consequence of this is that some horses may get reassessed without even racing again. It is just a continuous process all aimed at making Timeform ratings the most accurate assessment of global thoroughbred performance.

Last year we had the privilege of seeing and enjoying the amazing racetrack performances of champion three-year-old See The Stars as he took all before him in Europe culminating with a thrilling Prix de l'Arc victory at Longchamp.

See The Stars was assessed by Timeform at a lofty 140, one of the highest ratings awarded in the last 20 years.

Even so at that level, he ranks equal seventh on the all-time list of Timeform greats. Above him is Sea Bird on 145, the highest Timeform rated horse ever, followed by Brigadier Gerard (144), Tudor Minstrel (144), Abernant (142), Ribot (142) and Mill Reef (141).

Rated equal with Sea The Stars on 140 are such past champions as Dancing Brave, Dubai Millennium, Vaguely Noble and Shergar.

In Australia we have been fortunate to have had a few champion gallopers that have reached very high Timeform Ratings.

Obviously we are limited by accurate data going too far back in time to undertake such calculations but we have been able to calculate Timeform ratings for some, not all, of the modern day champions. It is very much work in progress but as time and resources permit we will endeavour to cover more past champions.

Tulloch currently sits as the highest rated Timeform horse we have assessed at 138, closely followed by Kingston Town (137) and Manikato (136).

Champion three-year-old Vain is next on 134 with Might And Power on 133.

Timeform rates Manikato (136) as Australia's best ever sprinter ahead of Vain (134).

Might And Power (133) is the highest rated Australian racehorse of the past 20 years.

Weekend Hussler's rating of 130 places him as the highest rated local galloper of the past 10 years, slightly ahead of Makybe Diva, Northerly & Sunline (all allocated a 129 rating).

Timeform 2010 Group One Racing Review

By Gary Crispe

The opening Group One for 2010 was the first leg of the Melbourne Sprinting Triple Crown, the Lightning Stakes down the straight 1000m at Flemington.

As a leg of the Global Sprint Series, in recent years this race has been a successful launching pad for Australian sprinters going abroad. It looks as if this year's winner Nicconi will follow a similar path as will fourth placegetter Starspangledbanner who was sold to Coolmore on the eve of the Lightning.

Nicconi was assessed as running to a Timeform rating of 124, a figure just above the five year average, defeating three-year-olds Wanted, Shellscape and Starspangledbanner.

Last year Scenic Blast rated 124 with Timeform before winning the Newmarket Handicap at Flemington and King's Stand Stakes at Royal Ascot.

The Lightning was a race also won by the grand galloper Takeover Target in 2006 before he headed off to win the King's Stand that year. Takeover Target ran to a Timeform rating of 123 in the 2006 renewal.

Of course Miss Andretti and Choisir also achieved similar feats. In fact Australian-trained sprinters have now won the King's Stand Stakes four times since 2003 – quite a remarkable achievement.

The subsequent sprinting form from the Lightning proved to be of a high standard this year with third-placed Starspangledbanner taking the Oakleigh Plate (Rating 125) at his next start and a few weeks later Wanted lead throughout to win the Newmarket Handicap rating 126 from Eagle Falls (119).

It is now likely that Nicconi and Starspangledbanner will meet sometime over the Royal Ascot Carnival. There is an outside chance Eagle Falls, who performed well in Dubai on World Cup night, could also make the trip if he races well in Singapore's Krisflyer in May.

The three-year-old sprinting form has held up not only in Melbourne through Wanted, Starspangledbanner and Shellscape but also at the Sydney Autumn Carnival through three-

Crystal Lily's Golden Slipper win topped off a remarkably consistent preparation and she sits at the top of the Australian 2YO Rankings with a 122 rating.

Wanted shares the highest 3YO rating (126) with Starspangledbanner. Both colts were able to topple the older sprinters when winning the Newmarket Handicap and Oakleigh Plate respectively.

year-old filly Melito (119) winning the Group One T J Smith Stakes and of course Shellscape (122) just going down in the Group One Galaxy to the smart mare Ortensia.

Despite views to the contrary, the three-year-old mile and distance form looks to have held up across both the Melbourne and Sydney Autumn Carnivals.

In Melbourne the Australian Guineas was won in dashing style by Rock Classic rating 122, a figure just under the five year average for the race. He then backed that up with a narrow defeat by Zabrasive in the Rosehill Guineas rating 124.

Behind Rock Classic in the Australian Guineas was the highly promising pair of Set For Fame and Linton.

Of course Queenslander Shoot Out has dominated the classics in Sydney, taking the Royal Sovereign Stakes, runner-up in the Hobartville Stakes, winning the Group One

Randwick Guineas and Group One AJC Australian Derby.

Shoot Out ran to a Timeform rating of 124 in the AJC Derby which exceeded the five year average for the race. That figure equalled the second highest rating for the Derby since Octagonal (126) scored in 1996.

Other AJC Derby winners rated on 124 included Headturner (2006), Starcraft (2004), Universal Prince (2001) and Gold Guru (1998).

The juvenile form in Melbourne has enjoyed a good season with several formlines feeding into Sydney's Group One treble.

The 2010 Blue Diamond Stakes looked a strong renewal and so it proved with the race providing three subsequent winners including the Golden Slipper winner Crystal Lily.

Star Witness overcame difficulties to win the Blue Diamond Stakes rating 121 defeating Shaheeq and Sydney colt Beneteau (121).

At that level, the race was above the five year average with the winner equalling the effort by Reward for Effort in 2009 but still below the highest rated winner in recent times Redoute's Choice on 123.

Smart filly Crystal Lily came out of the Blue Diamond and won her next three runs including an action-packed Golden Slipper Stakes with a preliminary rating of 122 which if confirmed later in the season would make her the equal second highest rated filly to win the Slipper in the last 20 years behind 1992 winner Bint Marsay.

Also rated on 122 is 1996 Slipper winner Merlene and third placed Alinghi from the 2004 renewal behind Dance Hero.

The 2010 year to date has been light on for the older horses with Doncaster winner Rangirangdoo posting the best Timeform rating at 126. That figure was above the five year average for the Doncaster but equalled recent winners in Haradasun and Racing To Win but below the mighty Sunline's 128 in the 2002 renewal.

All Silent's 2009 Spring Carnival form sees him maintain his place as the equal top-rated racehorse, and highest rated sprinter, in the country.

Whobegotyou is the top-rated 4YO and his rating of 127 also ranks him as the equal top-rated racehorse in Australia at present.

It seems as if we will not see Rangirangdoo again until the Spring where he will target the Group One W S Cox Plate, but the 126 rating should ensure he finishes close to the top of the 2009/2010 Timeform Handicaps.

Stablemate Danleigh has achieved the second highest rating in 2010 of 125 with an impressive display in the Group One George Ryder Stakes, a level he has reached previously winning the All Aged Stakes at Randwick last year.

While classy mare Typhoon Tracy sits next in line on 124 after her impressive win in the Group One Futurity Stakes at Flemington.

At the head of the current 2009/10 Timeform Handicaps are Whobegotyou and All Silent both on 127.

All Silent's rating is unlikely to change as he will not race again until the Spring and his level has been established, however Whobegotyou should get an opportunity to go higher as he may campaign in Brisbane.

Exciting New Sires in NSW This Season

By Les Young

While the list of new stallions at stud in NSW this spring is not yet finalised, those already announced will leave breeders wishing they had more mares to send out.

Australian bred racing stars retiring are All American (Arrowfield), Dreamscape (Widden), Duporth (Kitchwin Hills), I Am Invincible (Yarraman Park), Krupt (Lincoln – Walmac), Manhattan Rain (Arrowfield), Onemorenomore (Vinery), Raheeb (Patinack) and Starspangledbanner (Coolmore).

Supplementing this exciting lineup are three world renowned horses available here for the first time – proven top sires High Chaparral (Coolmore) and Medaglia d’Oro (Darley) plus champion U.S. performer Big Brown (Vinery) who is yet to have runners.

All American

ALL AMERICAN (fee $16,500 inc GST) is by deceased Red Ransom (USA) from the Strawberry Road mare Milva (USA), a half-sister to promising U.S. sire Rock Hard Ten, a multiple Group 1 winner of seven races and $2.47 million. Second dam Tersa (by Mr. Prospector) won the Group 1 Prix Morny in France at two years.

With a brilliant finishing burst All American finally added to his excellent two-year-old form (won AJC Skyline Stakes, second MRC Blue Diamond Stakes) with a stunning win in last spring’s Group 1 Emirates Stakes (1600m) at Flemington.

This half-brother to 2010 Golden Slipper placegetter More Strawberries, earned more than $1.26 million and should be suited to Danehill-line mares.

DREAMSCAPE ($9,900) is a lightly raced Gooree bred and raced sprinter whose four victories included the Group 2 AJC Stan Fox Stakes, Up and Coming Stakes (Gr.3) and Liverpool City Cup.

He is one of the best winners to date for his sire Choisir (Danehill

Dreamscape

Dancer (IRE) - Great Selection, by Lunchtime (GB) and is out of winner Faith in Dreams (USA) a daughter of Kentucky Derby winner Ferdinand.

Second dam Handsewn (Sir Ivor – Thong, by Nantallah) is a half-sister to such notables as King Pellinore, Thatch and producer Lisadell and from the family of great sires Sadler’s Wells and Nureyev.

Duporth

DUPORTH ($ 22,000), another son of Red Ransom (USA), is a particularly handsome horse whose racing record, with a little more luck, could have looked far better.

He won three times from 1100m to 1400m and earned $1,144,875, taking the Group 1 BTC Cup, STC Golden Rose (since upgraded to Group 1 status) and the AJC San Domenico Stakes.

Exciting New Sires in NSW This Season CONTINUED...

Staging (Success Express (USA) – Cinerama, by Best Western), the dam of Duporth, was a multiple Group winner of 10 races and more than $1.18 million and has also produced the Vinery sire Excites (AJC Sires' Produce Stakes) Tickets (STC Pago Pago Stakes, Phar Lap Stakes and runner up in the AJC Sires' Produce Stakes and Champagne Stakes) and Succeeding and he is another who should cross well with mares carrying Danehill blood.

I Am Invincible

I AM INVINCIBLE ($11,000) had speed to burn, scoring by five lengths at Warwick Farm over 1000m on debut as a two-year-old and later added four other wins to his tally, notably the Group 3 D.C. Mackay Stakes (1100m) in Adelaide and the listed Sir John Monash Stakes (1100m), a weight-for-age test at Caulfield.

Indicative of his class was his close second in the Group 1 Goodwood Handicap (1200m) at Morphettville when it took champion Takeover Target all his reserves to beat him.

A tall, rangy and attractive individual, I Am Invincible is by leading European sire Invincible Spirit (IRE) (by Green Desert, by Danzig) from Cannarelle, an unraced daughter of Canny Lad whose dam is a sister to multiple Group winner Mamzelle Pedrille (dam of O'Lonhro) and to the dam of Madame Pedrille.

KRUPT ($8800) had only a few starts before injury ended what looked likely to be a brilliant career on the track but his powerful win in the STC Todman Slipper Trial at two years proved his class.

By champion sire Flying Spur, Krupt is linebred 3x3 to influential mare Grand Luxe, herself a stakeswinner, by Sir Ivor from the famous Fanfreluche.

Krupt comes from Flying Spur's family which also means he is closely related to Encosta de Lago, also a champion sire, so this good looking horse with Storm Cat on the dam's side deserves his chance at stud.

Manhattan Rain

MANHATTAN RAIN ($49,500) is the most expensive of the first season sires of 2010 but his credentials are impeccable - a Group 1-winning juvenile, Golden Slipper and Cox Plate placegetter, a son of champion sire Encosta de Lago and a half-brother to champion sire Redoute's Choice.

A big, strong, high quality type, Manhattan Rain is a member of a renowned sire producing family and will receive the best of opportunities to match the stud deeds of his half-brother.

Manhattan Rain won the 2009 AJC Sires' Produce Stakes to highlight his juvenile season when he also captured the AJC Skyline Stakes, was runner up in the AJC Canonbury Stakes and third in both the Golden Slipper and Champagne Stakes.

Krupt

Onemorenomore

Exciting New Sires in NSW This Season CONTINUED...

ONEMORENOMORE ($24,200) is the third well credentialled son of world renowned sire Red Ransom retiring to stud in NSW this spring.

He offers breeders an exciting blend of performance and pedigree being out of high class racemare Palia (Last Tycoon (IRE) – Kew Gardens (FR)), also dam of Dr. Green (Wanganui Guineas and WRC Wellesley Stakes) and herself a sister to former star sprinter Just Awesome who did well at stud in Queensland before his early death. This is also the family of Casino Prince, Lord of the Land, Tagus, Hong Kong's Green Birdie, Le Johnstan and Piccolo.

Onemorenomore won last year's Group 1 AJC Champagne Stakes in impressive style as well as the T. L. Baillieu Handicap and was close up in other key juvenile features and this season had little luck in some top grade events, placing second in the MRC Norman Robinson Stakes and third in the AJC George Main Stakes before injury forced his retirement from the track.

Raheeb

RAHEEB ($8800) is one of the least expensive of the new sires in NSW this season but his good looks, pedigree and racing performances suggest he has bright prospects of stud success. By the great international sire Royal Academy (USA), Raheeb is one of his 154 stakeswinners throughout the world, winning four races highlighted by the Newcastle Cameron Handicap (1400m, Group 3) and the listed VRC Paris Lane Stakes as well as placing in five black type events.

Raheeb is out of the Marauding (NZ) stakeswinner Gatana which makes him a brother to Piccadilly Circus (MRC Blue Diamond Prelude, MRC Debutant Stakes), dam of sensational young sire Fastnet Rock.

STARSPANGLEDBANNER ($33,000), a very smart juvenile, scored a stunning win in the Group 1 MRC Caulfield Guineas (1600m) last spring before defeating a top field of older sprinters in the MRC Oakleigh Plate in the autumn when also close up in the VRC Newmarket Handicap, earning close to $1.4 million.

Coolmore purchased the son of Choisir and have sent him to Ireland with the aim of winning an important sprint in Britain before returning home to begin a stud career.

A lovely, flashy chestnut very much like his father, Star Spangledbanner is out of stakes placed Adelaide winner Gold Anthem (Made of Gold (USA) – National Song, by Vain), a close relative of outstanding racemare and producer Circles of Gold, dam of Elvstroem and Haradasun.

HIGH CHAPARRAL (IRE) ($88,000) has three Group 1-winning three-year-olds – So You Think, Shoot Out and Monaco Consul – in Australia this season as a result of his time in New Zealand so it is wonderful news that he will be shuttling from Ireland to NSW this spring.

Also sire of 16 other stakeswinners internationally, High Chaparral (Sadler's Wells – Kasora, by Darshaan) was a tough, sound racehorse of the highest class who won the Group 1 Doncaster Trophy Stakes (1600m) at two before taking the Epsom Derby, Irish Derby and Breeders' Cup Turf Stakes at three then going on to another Breeders' Cup Turf victory at four when he also won the Irish Champion Stakes.

MEDAGLIA D'ORO (USA) ($88,000), by champion U.S. sire El Prado (Sadler's Wells – Lady Capulet, by Sir Ivor) is famous as the sire of champion U.S. filly Rachel Alexandra but he is far from a one horse wonder with 16 other stakeswinners including Group 1/ Grade 1 winners Passion For Gold (one of Europe's best juveniles of 2009) Gabby's Golden Gal and Warrior's Reward.

Out of the stakeswinning Bailjumper (Damascus) mare Cappuccino Bay, Medaglia d'Oro was an outstanding performer over four seasons in the USA winning eight and placing in another seven of his 17 starts and earning $U.S. 5.75 million.

Effective from 1200 to 2000m, his major wins were in the Travers Stakes, Jim Dandy Stakes, San Felipe Stakes, Whitney Handicap, Donn Handicap, Oaklawn Handicap and Strub Stakes and he was also runner up in the Breeders' Cup Classic (twice), Belmont Stakes and Dubai World Cup.

BIG BROWN (USA) ($44,000), by successful Danzig sire Boundary from a Nureyev mare, was a sensational three-year-old in America in 2008 when he scored devastating victories in the Florida Derby, Kentucky Derby and Preakness Stakes before a spectacular failure in the longer Belmont Stakes, final leg of the coveted Triple Crown.

He later returned to his best to take the Haskell Invitational Stakes, another Grade 1 event, before retiring to stud in Kentucky in 2009 so his first foals are on the ground this year.

Other stallions retiring in NSW will be covered in the next Update.

Industry Update:

Hunter Valley Thoroughbred Breeders - Protect Our Industries Campaign

protectourINDUSTRIES

Since the launch of the Protect Our Industries campaign earlier this year, the Hunter Valley Breeders have been actively stepping up their campaign to raise awareness among Federal and State politicians and the public of the importance of the Hunter Valley's Thoroughbred Breeding Industry.

The Thoroughbred Breeders have engaged with State and Federal Ministers and Shadow Ministers to apprise them of the challenges faced by competing land use in the Hunter Valley. The Federal Leader of the National Party, Warren Truss and the NSW Planning Minister Tony Kelly separately visited the Hunter Valley to gain a first hand, on-the-ground, appreciation of the challenges faced by Thoroughbred Breeders as a result of increasing levels of encroachment from coal mining. More recently State Opposition Leader Barry O'Farrell, Leader of the Nationals, Andrew Stoner and Member for Upper Hunter & Shadow Minister for Racing, George Souris separately toured the Inglis Easter Yearling Sales where they met many local thoroughbred breeders and heard about the challenges confronting Thoroughbred Breeders in the Hunter Valley.

George Souris' visit followed the Shadow Minister's opinion piece in the Newcastle Herald on 8 April. In his opinion piece George Souris called for more environmental investigation, community consultation, assessment of cumulative impacts and consideration of prime agricultural land to precede the future granting of exploration licenses. We welcome Mr Souris's initiatives and agree that Governments should consult more before they act - particularly to ensure that the long term sustainability of the Hunter Valley is not sacrificed for short term economic gains.

(A full copy of George Souris' opinion piece can be found at <http://www.theherald.com.au/news/local/news/general/mine-impacts-should-be-determined-first/1816595.aspx>)

The Hunter Valley – Australia's Thoroughbred Nursery

The Hunter Valley is central to Australia's Thoroughbred Breeding and Racing operations. It is the nursery of Australia's thoroughbred breeding operations.

The Thoroughbred Breeding Industry in Australia's Hunter Valley is one of three international centres of thoroughbred breeding excellence – along with Kentucky in the USA and Newmarket UK, and has the second largest concentration of thoroughbred breeding studs outside of Kentucky in the USA.

Hunter Valley Thoroughbred Breeders' produce approximately half of all thoroughbreds born in Australia annually and exports approximately 70% of all Australian thoroughbreds in volume and 80-90% of all Australian thoroughbreds in value.

Inglis Easter Yearling Sale

The contribution made by the Hunter Valley Thoroughbred Breeding Industry was recently highlighted at the 2010 Inglis Easter Yearling Sale. 86 % of this year's Inglis Easter Yearling Sale catalogue was sired by Hunter Valley stallions. All of the top ten highest priced yearlings on the first 2 days of the sale were sired by Hunter Valley stallions and over 80% of the top ten stallions sold on Day 3 were sired by Hunter Valley stallions.

The Bickham Coal Project

In March of this year the NSW Government listened to the people of the Hunter Valley and organised public hearings into the Bickham Coal Project. The Planning Assessment Commission spent two days in Scone on 17 and 18 March and heard from over 40 representatives. Among these John Messara AM, represented the Hunter Thoroughbred Breeders' Association. John Messara, proprietor of Arrowfield Stud and is the immediate past President of the Thoroughbred Breeders Australia and Aushorse.

In his presentation John Messara highlighted that the Upper Hunter Valley is currently mine free. The proposal for an open cut mine at Bickham would yield a relatively small short lived economic gain yet pose significantly large risks for the environment, water resources, prime agricultural lands, the agricultural industries, jobs and the fabric of regional communities. John Messara called on the NSW Government to make an early decision on the matter, rule out the Bickham Coal project and put an end to a decade of uncertainty caused by this long-standing issue.

The Planning Assessment Commission is due to hand its report to the NSW Planning Minister, Tony Kelly at the end of April. A Ministerial decision is expected shortly thereafter.

Show Your Support

To date over 1,300 people have signed up to support the Protect Our Industries campaign and have called for a cumulative impact assessment to be conducted into the Hunter Valley's water and air quality. Support has been received far and wide including, Sir Patrick Hogan, Gerry Harvey, TV presenters Simon O'Donnell and Ron Dufficy, Makybe Diva's owner Tony Santic, leading trainers Gai Waterhouse, Mark Kavanagh, John O'Shea, Graeme Rogerson, John Hawkes, Kris Lees, David Hayes and Lee Freedman. International support has been received from countries including, Ireland, England, France, New Zealand, China and USA.

Add your voice to the many people who are helping to champion our cause so that we can continue to produce Champions of the future. If your care about sustainable water resources, clean air and a future for Thoroughbred Breeding in the Hunter Valley show your support by registering on our Protect our Industries website at www.protectorindustries.com.au or by contacting Jess Faras on 02 6543 9042.

Q&A with Jason Arbrahams

Caroline Searcy spoke with breeder, owner & syndicator Jason Arbrahams who has experienced Group 1 success during the Sydney Autumn Carnival with Queen Elizabeth Stakes winner Road To Rock, Sydney Cup winner Jessicabeel and Rosehill Guineas winner Zabrasive.

It was interesting hearing you say on the Connections program on TVN that you get a great thrill from breeding a group one winner such as Road to Rock, compared to owning a Sydney Cup winner such as Jessicabeel. What makes breeding a top horse so satisfying?

There are so many choices available for broodmare owners these days and trying to optimise each year's mating decision is a challenge on its own. Trying to match up pedigree, performance, conformation, strengths and weaknesses of each compatible stallion with a mare is not easy, particularly when you also have to consider how commercial the foal will be in the sale ring. When you see decisions made based on price alone, or location, or some other influence, you have to wonder what the chances of success are. It generally takes me a number of months to get comfortable with each mating, and even then I find myself second guessing a decision.

How did you plan the Encosta De Lago - Trewornan mating that resulted in Road to Rock. Why pick that match up?

Dr Chris Rogers, Dr Paul Hughes, and I had purchased a Redoute's Choice filly out of Trewornan at the Easter sales in 2004, and then Trewornan came up for sale at the Inglis Broodmare Sale the following week. Chris and I thought she was an interesting mare who was actually in foal to Encosta De Lago at the time. Trewornan herself was bred by Pat Eddery in the UK, and she was owned by Ron and Rod Dufficy. Byron Rogers said the mare would work well with Encosta as she had Miswaki via Midyan in her sire line, so we purchased her with the foal in mind.

What other horses are currently in work that you have bred?

Road To Rock

Not many that I know of, I usually sell my mares after about the 5th or 6th foal and currently as a consequence all my mares are too young to have runners. The oldest mare I have is Faith Hill whose first foal was a Lonhro filly named Black Minx who was Lonhro's first stakeswinner. Another mare I sold not that long ago was Mohave Dancer who produced Natural Blitz (multiple Gr2 winner and Gr1 placed) and Superblitz (SP). Occasions was a mare we had for a while. She produced stakes winner's Winona (Bluebird) and Chiming Lass (Bellotto), along with handy mare Artistique (Peintre Celebre). The two half-sisters both won the Toy Show Quality in consecutive years, so that was an interesting result. Other stakes' horses we bred include Phoenix Park (Royal Academy Gr2 winner) and Fraud (Bellotto - Black Opal)

Your father has had a 30 year involvement in breeding and racing horses. Explain who has the final say, and the role your father plays in the racing and breeding of your horses.

Dad introduced me to horses. He purchased a farm near the Blue Mountains and decided to breed some horses so he went to the broodmare sales and bought about seven mares ranging in value from $250 to $1500 in the early 80's. He had some success with these mares but we both learnt a lot from the experience. He mostly cleared the decks and lost interest when his good friend and main influence, Ray Guy, a Rosehill trainer, passed away in December 1992. I was always keen to persist and we kept a very small band of mares for a while but got a little more serious again around 2000 when I came back from overseas. Well he likes what he likes, so valuations tend to fly out the window when Dad gets involved. I have to ban him from attending sales unless there is someone there to keep him in check. He has the final say when it comes to mare and yearling filly purchases. I will usually look at the yearlings at a sale and then take him around the short list of ten before we discuss what to target. The colts are different, we only take a small share, so he pretty much leaves that to my discretion. Getting Charge Forward may have helped there. With the matings I always run him through what I'm thinking and after some discussions, he signs off on them. Dad doesn't keep as close an eye on stallion performance or market opinion as he once did, so if we get it wrong, I have to put my hand up and admit defeat.

How hard is it as a mare-owner to find the right stallions from a pedigree and conformation point of view? Obviously there are many, many choices.

It can be extremely difficult, but I guess it depends on what you are looking for in a stallion. Some mares are inherently difficult due to pedigree restrictions or their size, etc. There is always a struggle between the ideal mating and the commerciality of that decision. Commerciality also involves your fortunetelling skills for three years down the track. Because we put all our foals in sales there is always a day of reckoning where your decision is tested. It also gets tested on the track, so you balance out sales ring success and racetrack success, or both if you can.

You mentioned potentially sending more mares to New Zealand stallions this year. That's not good for NSW stallion owners to hear! What would make it easier for you to book your mares to local stallions?

Cost is the main issue. The safety-first rule comes into play with mares at a certain point. You need a proven stallion that is not going to cost the earth but still give you commerciality. I don't think looking at the Easter sale average or median should determine the expectation of what you can earn from a foal by a particular stallion. As a mare owner you need to look at all the main sales and then take a median figure. When you do this, many expensive stallions start to look ugly. The problem for commercial breeders is that many people breed to race, or as a hobby, and price is not an important factor for these people, thereby creating a floor for nomination prices that stud farms can leverage off. Commercial breeders are the victims here and if the yearling market is not on an upward spiral to cover up over-mating mistakes, you can run into a harsh reality situation.

We also have a situation where service numbers are not totally controlled and the mare owner finds out at some stage that the farm has covered more mares than was expected, leaving you paying a price based on demand, but not knowing what the supply numbers will be. Economics 101 leaves you feeling unimpressed knowing after the event that you are now competing with double the foals you thought would be out there. Maybe you wouldn't have paid that fee if you had known these figures before signing on the dotted line.

Jessicabeel was originally bought with the Oaks in mind. She is now a Sydney Cup winner. Do you and your family prefer buying staying types?

Dad definitely does. Historically they have been cheaper to purchase over sprinters. Physically however, stayers can be more difficult to select. They don't stand out at you often, and you need a bit of imagination. Also in a staying race the barrier or a check in running doesn't end your chances. The prizemoney too is stronger and there are more options for stayers, which allows you to race a horse for longer and have the ability to accumulate more prizemoney. BOBS Extra is a great innovation for NSW-bred stayers I think.

You have set up Champion Thoroughbreds with John O Shea to syndicate the horses you buy at the sales. How important is it for a syndicator to have a good understanding of the breeding industry. Some syndicators only really inspect horses at the sales, but is it important to know a bit more about the family of the yearling, and what they are like on a farm before they are fully prepped for sale?

John O'Shea and I regularly visit farms throughout the year, study the pedigrees of stakes winners, and look at our notes on yearlings inspected when they race, etc. All of this helps when it comes to buying a yearling as you can understand a stallion better, and can give a better value judgement on whether you would be happy to buy the progeny of that stallion. I would expect other syndicators would do likewise.

The biggest advantage I think Champion Thoroughbreds has is that John is looking after 60 horses in his stable everyday, so he sees issues with horses that stops them achieving on the racetrack, and can bring that knowledge to the sales' complex. As an owner or breeder, your exposure and experience is limited to your own horses. A trainer is likely to see tenfold the horses you do, and John is capable of taking that information and using it to assist us at sale time.

Syndication is harder than we thought. In our first year we purchased five horses, of which two were by Commands. This was by design as we sat down and thought, if I was a first time owner, or a person with one chance to get a winner, which stallion is going to be my best bet? The market however does not like Commands as much as we did (as we found out subsequently!) So not only do you have to get the type right and know what stallions can produce good horses, and what they should look like, you also need to read the market fashion at the time.

Which of the horses you have bred recently are you the most excited about looking towards the future, and why?

We sold a beautiful Redoute's Choice colt out of Mohave Dancer last year that Darley purchased. He is bred on a great cross, that being Redoute's Choice over a Zabeel mare, and had a great walk and action on him. All round he was an impressive individual. This year we sold the Encosta De Lago filly from Faith Hill at Easter and she has gone to Graham Begg's stable. She was the most like her mum I have seen. Not a 2yo but you could imagine her as being a lovely 3yo filly in 18 months time.

Thoroughbred Breeders Australia - Update

Report by CEO Peter McGauran - May 2010

Quarantine Issues

TBA is in close dialogue with the Federal Government on future developments surrounding the two quarantine stations at Eastern Creek (NSW) and Werribee (Vic). Spotswood has been closed on the basis of affordability to the industry for a six month trial period whilst the increased numbers of shipments through Eastern Creek are assessed.

Racing Victoria's (RV) proposal to build a new quarantine facility at Werribee racecourse is well underway, and when completed will provide facilities to properly accommodate stallions, broodmares and racehorses in order to meet their specific stabling requirements. At the same time, the Federal Government has announced a review of the future of the Eastern Creek facility on the basis that its lease expires in 2016 (or earlier if desired) and that a new site will need to be found.

Import Risk Assessment (IRA)

The Federal Government undertook an import risk assessment (IRA) for imported horses throughout 2008-2009. TBA commissioned leading scientists to examine the draft IRA to ensure that the quarantine system was in no way weakened whilst the efficiency of the international trade in horses was maintained. The scientists largely endorsed the draft IRA and recommended only a couple of minor changes to the protocols surrounding some diseases. TBA made a submission to this effect to Biosecurity Australia in the period allowed for public comments. Biosecurity Australia released the final IRA in March bringing certainty and transparency to import procedures and requirements.

EI Vaccination

All State and Federal Agriculture Ministers met in Darwin on 23 April and decided that if the Horse Disease Levy Bills, which establish a levy mechanism for a Government/Horse Industry funding agreement to eradicate future horse disease outbreaks, does not pass through the Senate by 1 December, then voluntary EI vaccination will be introduced. This is validation of TBA policy which has advocated vaccination as a necessary insurance policy against any future breach of quarantine. However, it is nearly certain that the Government will now be able to garner the two extra votes it needs in the Senate from the independent Senators or the Coalition Opposition as the pleasure horse sectors would rather live with a horse disease levy than EI vaccination. Once a levy system is established, no Government, State or Federal, in all likelihood will support EI vaccination given the vehement opposition by the hundreds of thousands of recreational and pony club riders. What the Ministers have done is force the pleasure horse sector to accept the lesser of two evils (in their eyes) and the Independent Senators and Coalition will follow suit. Whilst TBA believes vaccination is essential to safeguard our future, we would work with Animal Health Australia (AHA), the administering body of the horse disease levy, to ensure that speedy vaccination from pre-existing stockpiles and less restrictive horse movements are incorporated into an emergency response plan.

Breeders Ownership of Horses

A report released by TBA reveals that Australian breeders have paid more than $500 million in the past two years in training fees for racehorses. This figure does not include the purchase price of racehorses and the cost of breaking them in, nor the added expense of vets, farriers and other costs incurred in the upkeep of racehorses.

The report establishes that breeders wholly or partly own 63% of racehorses in training. When all the percentages of racehorses owned by breeders are added together it equates to owning the equivalent of 45% of all racehorses in Australia.

The report demonstrates conclusively that breeders largely underwrite racing and make a massive contribution to the income and well-being of industry participants. Breeders underpin racehorse ownership in this country and seek to play a constructive role in resolving the many issues affecting the viability and future of racing.

In real numbers, 7,177 of Australia's 8,500 thoroughbred breeders share in the ownership of more than 35,000 racehorses.

Breeders also contribute in excess of $10 million annually to prizemoney through race sponsorship and state incentive schemes like BOBS, VOBIS and QTIS.

New TBA National Membership Campaign

TBA has launched a campaign to offer free associate membership to anyone with an involvement in the breeding of Thoroughbreds. TBA invites all Thoroughbred breeders to become an Associate Member of TBA free of charge in order to give grass roots breeders a greater say in the issues and policies affecting their industry.

TBA strongly believes that all Thoroughbred breeders have the right to fully participate in chartering the way ahead for the Thoroughbred racing and breeding industries. An industry body is only as strong as its membership who provide input and guidance we look to you for your input and guidance. Strength lies in numbers and through increased representation of breeders, TBA will have greater influence with Federal and State Governments when seeking to influence decisions on quarantine, biosecurity, taxation, animal welfare, artificial insemination, gaming revenue and trade issues amongst many others. Moreover, TBA is in constant discussions with the sales companies representing the interests of vendors on issues such as x-rays, scoping, commission rates, marketing and a proposed code of conduct.

TBA membership carries no obligations and in no way affects or replaces your current or future membership of the State organizations which provide their members with a variety of financial benefits including direct contact with relevant State offices to address matters of local concern.

Associate Members of TBA will also receive e-mail updates from us regarding our activities plus a copy of the TBA Annual Report.

For more information regarding National and State Membership please visit our website at www.tbaus.com or call our head office on 02 9663 8444.

Tax Laws Amendment Bill 2009

The net effect of the lobbying by TBA and the National Farmers Federation (NFF) of Government Ministers after the May 2009 Budget announcement and the subsequent written submissions above was to ameliorate the worst impacts of the legislation which eventually passed through the Parliament to commence 1/7/10. However, the legislation remains as a deterrent to some current or future investors in the Thoroughbred industry given the time and expense required to justify to the Tax office the years of loss and establish the prospect of making a profit within a reasonable period of time. It can be done but unfortunately you have to jump through some hoops to get there which, in the scheme of things, means some people won't be bothered trying.

Artificial Insemination

The action under the Trade Practices Act alleging restraint of trade by Bruce McHugh against the Australian Stud Book and Australian Racing Board is well underway in the Federal Court. A Court hearing is not expected until about this time next year as preliminary legal procedures such as Discovery and Interrogatories take place. Although not a party to Mr McHugh's action, TBA is maintaining a close interest in proceedings. TBA policy is to support the ban on AI.
